

Spring in Vienna

Elana Klopstein
Psychology

Main Points

Study Abroad can be for anyone!
Do not let monetary worries hold you back. There are many scholarships available for people who want to study abroad.

Today I will go over:

- Funding
- How to find your program
- Study Abroad Experience
- Study Abroad resources

Funding

Financial Aid

Scholarships

Planning Ahead: Savings, Fundraising, ETC.

Pick Cheaper Study Abroad Programs

- Certain Countries have much lower cost of living than the U.S

How to Apply

Visit : <https://www.tacoma.uw.edu/oga/sa-programs>

Here you will find a list of all the programs offered at UW Tacoma,

Alternatively to view UW Seattle programs Visit:

<https://www.washington.edu/studyabroad/students/find-a-program/>

to find all of the Seattle study abroad programs

After Selecting your program there will be a list of requirements to complete in order to participate in a program, generally these will include:

- 1) A brief statement of why you would be a good fit for the program
- 2) A professor recommendation
- 3) Academic Information

It is generally recommended to apply to at least two programs just in case you do not get accepted

Especially if you are interested in a UW Seattle program

UWT Study Abroad Programs

SUMMER 2024

Prague: Psychology of Culture and Food in the Czech Republic

Cusco, Perú: Spanish Language and Cultures

Taiwan: Past and Present

Early Fall 2024

Bolivia or India: CFHI Global Health Experiential Learning Program

Autumn 2024

Germany: Bielefeld University Exchange

Deciding on a Program

- 1) Check the requirements of each program, some programs will only let certain majors join
- 2) Research the country you will be studying in. It is helpful to reach out to the program advisors/study abroad advisors to get a better sense of what your program will look like
- 3) Costs, make a budget sheet beforehand

CONCLUSIONS

Study Abroad is FUN!

You should join a study abroad program too :)

